The EQalities Award

The new EQalities Award is a national initiative designed to help all types of schools and children's centres to review and develop their policy and provision as well as recognising their work in:

- advancing equality of opportunity
- eliminating discrimination
- fostering good relations

The EQalities Award enables schools/children's centres to conduct a detailed audit and accumulate a portfolio of evidence which recognises and celebrates all the work they do in compliance with:

- The new Equality Act 2010 which brings former equality duties relating to disability, ethnicity and gender into a unified Equality Duty including other 'protected characteristics' for example faith and belief and sexual identity and the requirement to consider socio-economic disadvantage.
- The 2009 Ofsted Common Inspection Framework which identified 'Equality and Diversity', as both a limiting judgement and contributory grade.

"It's fabulous that the EQalities Award recognises the hard work that is going on, and the ways in which the school promotes community cohesion and equal opportunities for all its children."
